A 'New Look'

On Rail Rates

OTTAWA (CP)—The British Columbia government today proposed a new freight rate structure based on railway costs and aimed at gradually revamping and revitalizing the role of railways in Canada.

The government called on the MacPherson Royal Commission on Transportation to toss out the traditional rate is the first full provintial submission to be present-making principles and take a new look at railway pricing mission as it enters the final

About 300 soldiers, RCMP officers, B.C. Forestry Service employees and volunteer loggers fanned out through the Nitinat Valley today in a desperate search for missing Cecil Rawlings, 75 Cook.

Rawlings' business partner, Cecil Rhodes, 2628 Eastdowne, was killed in the crash of a Seabee amphibfan May 29 during a one-day fishing trip to Nitinat Lake, 70 miles northwest of Victoria, by the C & C. Transportation Ltd. co-owners.

The plane was reached by a ground party Sat-

Rawlings' fate remained an agonizing mystery up to press time today. He was still missing. Most of the evidence indicated that he died in the crash but there were some clues that made searchers

But there are two completely opposing feelings about it.
Some of the loggers who did the main search are convinced they have found sufficient tracks to indicate someone walked away from the plane.

Among Rawlings' friends in have spilled in the first impact.
But amazing things have happened before in plane wrecks. And it is the slim hope that a miracle occurred which has kept the searchers scouring the dense forest walked away from the plane.

An experienced outdoor man, today.

Can Cecil Rawlings possibly be alive?

This is the question everyone in Victoria is asking today while a small army of men comb the jungle-like territory near Nitinat Lake in search of him.

Most of those connected with the search believe it would be a fantastic miracle if he lived, although his body was not found with wrecked plane.

Added to this was the finding he would have scratched some message or left a directional marker of some sort. There was no evidence of this.

The camera, conceivably, could have been catapulted out of the wreckage.

There is always the possibility that the plane may have struck the tree tops, then skipped a considerable distance before finally crashing. Some of its contents could-of Nova Scotia will go to the provincial polls. Those of Saskatchewan will follow next tlay. Quebec votes on June 22 and New Brunswick on June 27. Mr. Bennett is likely to call an election in the autumn, if not earlier.

Five elections, sampling every major region of Canada, except Ontarlo, cannot fail to tell us something about the nation's basic political opinions in general and, in particular, its opinion of the Diefenbaker Government.

To be sure, none of the provincial voters will vote directly on the Diefenbaker Government, but they will vote on its close friends, the Conservative Governments of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec. There, and in Saskatchewan also, the Liberal Party is the official opposition. Hence these four June elections will indicate what progress Pearson is making in national

But all these indications must be rough unless one of the major national parties wins decisively everywhere, which seems improb-able. All the same, the Diefenbaker Government, half way through its term of power, cannot afford any serious slump in the Conservative vote, especially that of Quebec.

It has shown itself well aware of that danger by doing everything possible to fortify the three friendly provincial Governments of the east and to re-establish the Conservative party in Saskatchewan where it has not been a serious factor of late years. In the same fashion, the federal Government is supervising the attempted reorganization of its provincial wing in British Columbia.

The electoral results in the five provinces may well be spotty, so far as the composition of their new legislatures is concerned. From the viewpoint of national politics the thing to watch is the popular vote.

It will show whether the Conse vative Party is still holding the massive strength which it attained in the nation-wide sweep of 1958, or whether it has begun to slump. Any sharp rise in the Liberal vote, even members to the legislatures, would certainly cast a shadow over Mr. Diefenbaker's prospects two years

This would be especially important in Quebec, where many of Canada's national elections have been won or lost. Perhaps the most significant question in the approaching test of public opinion across the country is whether the recent public marriage between the Diefenbaker Government and the Union Nationale (the actual Conservative Party of Quebec) has been a success or a failure.

At this distance it is impossible to understand the complex provincial politics of French Canada but the defeat of the Barrette Government would make the re-election of what they will see, the Diefenbaker Government very and try to put things

Far short of Mr. Barrette's de-Far short of Mr. Barrette's defeat, large Liberal gains would indicate that Quebec already has begun age on the range. Laurent Government and may well be returning, in federal affairs, to the Liberal fold. If so, that would alter the whole gravity of national

The Maritimes are another proposition. They expected to receive from the Diefenbaker Government, and did receive, large financial concessions, but they have not received their promised prosperity and they are more depressed than any part of Canada. Is their disappointment to be taken out on their provincial governments as the political allies of Mr. Diefenbaker?

Saskatchewan is yet another case of its own. There, and only there, the people will vote on a clear issue, the medical insurance policy sponsored by Mr. Douglas. It is unlikely, however, that the people's answer will be clear, for the opposition is split three ways, as in British Columbia.

Mr. Douglas can claim a mandate for his latest experiment by winning with less than half the total vote. That is Mr. Bennett's hope also. Real democratic choice in great affairs becomes almost impossible when the two-party system is fractured.

The Old Pressure

THE FORCES OF WORLDWIDE inflation may have been stabilized, as the International Monetary Fund believes, but they are still pressing hard on the prices of North America.

A few days ago the United States' retail price index rose again to an all-time high. Mr. A. Roy Poyntz, president of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association, noted at the same time that the Canadian dollar lost 1.3 per cent of its purchasing power in the last four months.

This fall in the dollar's internal value should not be confused with its recent fall in the international money market. The two values, internal and external, are separate for the moment. But as the Canadian dollar falls on the international exchanges it raises the price of all our imports and thus tends to push up our cost of living.

In any case it is alarming, as Mr. Poyntz says, to find prices rising in Canada during the last four months, "a period when prices of primary commodities were fairly stable and when productivity might have been expected to show good gains and to reduce upward pressures on cost.

Mr. Poyntz might have added that prices have risen when a large sector of the Canadian labor force is pearing in Europe.

unemployed and when many industries are operating below capacity. These factors should op-erate to push down prices but they rising because other forces, chiefly the wage-price spiral, are still pushing them up.

Concerning these things, Governor Coyne, of the Bank of Canada, offered a significant comment in a recent speech: "Whether a wage increase in any particular industry at any particular time is good or bad for those directly concerned is a matter for them to consider. But there is no foundation for the argument that a general increase in money incomes can increase total employment in Canada today.

In Mr. Coyne's view a further inflation of the currency, increased governmental expenditures by deficit financing or general wage in-creases will only stimulate more imports to employ foreigners instead of Canadians.

These are large and complex matters touching the basic distor-tions of the Canadian economy, now becoming clearer every day. We shall hear much more of them in political debate from now on. But in the meantime the current figures warn us that the danger of inflation is by no means finished in America and lately, after a lull, it is re-ap-

BRITAIN'S ANNOUNCED D readiness to "consider anew" the proposal that she join the European atomic energy pool and the European coal and steel group is good news for the whole north Atlantic community. It represents the first break in the stalemate between the Common Market and the Outer Seven which has threatened to split the economy of Europe.

The timing of the British announcement reflects a new mood in Britain, arising out of the Summit failure. From this and other evidence it is plain that Britain sees with increasing clarity the danger of economic quarrels with its allies of France and West Germany. As has happened often before, the Russians are driving the free nations together.

Happily the recent events at Paris have caused little or no division in British politics. Mr. Gaitskell wreck, his loyal support of President Eisenhower. In all these great affairs British foreign policy is becoming non-partisan.

By opposing a dangerous breach in the Western alliance Mr. Gaitskell has served his country well. He increases his own stature by stand-

AFTER a year's absence, this reporter revisited the Press Gallery of the House of Commons last week.

The occasion was to have been the debate on the Combines Act amendment. But this was set back to make way for a Government resolution, moved by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, extending the hours of the sitting of the House.

This reporter has been watching Parliament since 1924. In this stretch of time there have been many memorable occasions, moments of great excitement and drama, of great oratory, of great elation and of bitter disappointment.

But there is one mood which is so rare in the House of Commons as to be almost unknown—the mood caused by an intolerant, all-powerful majority when it addresses itself, deliberately, to crippling and gagging a minority.
In such circumstances—and the

After an absence, Monday's scene most forcibly reminded the writer of the pipeline debate of 1956, the Liberal Govment's application of closure and the outburst on the so-called "Black Friday."

The roles were more than reversed. In 1956 the author and sponsor of clo-sure was Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe. The Liberal members/did not know what Mr. Howe proposed to do and most of them disliked and disapproved of it. The Liberal newspapers right across the country strongly criticized the Liberal Government for this particular application of closure.

As all those close to him were aware,

Mr. Howe was actuated not by dislike of the Opposition or desire to stop de-bate. He was intent on building the pipeline in 1956 and to do this he believed the legislation must be enacted by a certain deadline.

In 1956 the Conservative Opposition, numbering about 50, fought for the right of debate in Parliament. They were the ardent supporters of freedom. Mr. Fleming, present Minister of Finance, became so unruly that he was expelled for a sitting and his colleagues promptiy draped his desk with a Union Jack. Mr. Drew, the then Conservative leader, stamped up and down the centre aisle (with many others) shaking his clenched fist at the ceiling.

The writer's only recollection of Mr.

Diefenbaker at this time was of a melodramatic figure, slumped in his seat, his head sunk in his hands—the very abodiment of despair. Last Monday's behavior by Mr. Diefenbaker and the masses of Conservative back benchers (there are nearly 200 of them) was worse than anything the Liberals did in 1956. Mr. Diefenbaker, who in 1956 sought

Commons Happy, to smooth over rough spots, restrain his followers and concede as much as possible to the Opposition. Sir John A. Good War? Because of threats, or boasting, insults, war is sometimes unavoidable and therefore excusable. It is always murderous. Bertrand Russell, in a Canadian radio

English rule in America was wide open to criticism, but so has Republican rule in many instances been likewise, as shown by the Civil War, north against warmly approved Mr. Macmillan's attitude at the Summit, his patient attempt to save something from the attempt to save so often distrust.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Putting the E in Whiskey

LONDON-Do you know the difference between whisky and whiskey?

In this part of the world the two different spellings are strictly adhered to, to signify two types of the beverage. Whisky is the stuff the Scots have made famous. In Ireland they make whiskey. Why they insist on the extra "e" is something known only to the Irish Reason this subject es up is that Ireland is extremely jealous of the firm hold (and resulting dollars) which Scotland has in this field with North Americans. The Irish say it's a bit unfair, ince the Scots have a big export advantage.

Scotch is merely twice distilled and three years matured before it can be shipped over the Atlantic, whereas the Irish variety calls for three distillations and 10 years maturing.

To try to get a bigger slice of the North American market, the Irish distillers have hired a U.S. advertising firm to embark on an intensive advertising campaign, some evidences of which you may already have

A keynote of the campaign is inviting people to write to the distillers for information about Irish whiskey and happily they've totted up more than 30,000 letters already.

But the proof of the whiskey is in the tasting and my guess is that the reaction of U.S. and Canadian newcomers to irish whiskey won't differ greatly from that of the English,

In an English pub, bottle after bottle of cotch has to be opened to keep up with customers' demands, while the single bottle of Irish on the shelf is invariably a dust-

I'm surprised to learn that 10 years of loving care goes into the producing of Irish whiskey because the reaction of any English man bold enough to sample it is almost always: "It tastes awful."

WASHINGTON (AP)-The United States has fired back at the increased salvos of criticism coming from Russia and Cuba.

Within a period of a leve hours Saturday, the state department

1. Said it was disgusted with Premier Khrushchev's bitter attacks on President Eisen hower. It accused Khrushoher of trying to degrade interna tional relations and confuse the issue of the Paris summit conference collapse.

2. Protested to Havana that the Castro regime was waging an intense official campaign of slander against the United States. It said the Cuban government was trying to sow distrust and animosity while claiming to seek friendship and understanding.

President Eisenhower, without naming Khrushchev, also hit back at the personal criti-cism of him which has been flowing out of Moscow.

A Hurricane of Common Sense

THE COMPLETE TEXT OF AN ADDRESS BY DR. FRANK N. D. BUCHMAN AT THE OPENING OF THE MORAL RE-ARMAMENT WORLD ASSEMBLY IN CAUX, SWITZERLAND

IDEOLOGY AND CO-EXISTENCE

Caux, Switzerland, June 4, 1960-There is a hurricane of common sense sweeping through the world. "A Hurricane of Common Sense"—that was the headline in a newspaper read by the leaders of Washington. It refers to the manifesto Ideology and Co-Existence which in the last six months has gone to 73,000,000 homes throughout the United States, Canada, Scandinavia, Germany, Italy, France, Great Britain, The Netherlands, Greece and Turkey, as well as India, South Africa, South America, Australia and Japan. It has already been translated into 24 different languages, and will be read by the millions. It puts squarely to the modern world choice-Moral Re-Armament or Communism:

My old friend General Guisan, wartime Commanderin-Chief of the Armies of Switzerland, wrote the foreword to the Swiss edition. In it he said, "On the ideological plane neutrality can be dangerous, for refusal to fight for what is right plays the enemy's game. The training centre at Caux is a junique instrument that has changed the conduct of nations. I long that our whole people should face realistically the forces which confront each other today, that we draw from our traditions a relentless determination to safeguard at all costs the freedoms we inherit."

This was the last public statement General Guisan-made. When he died 300,000 citizens of Switzerland stood in silent tribute to the man who was regarded as the saviour of his nation. His widow wrote to me, "General Guisan was gripped by the idea and the might of Moral Re-Armament. In the evening of his life it was a great girder of support to him.

MIGHTY WIND OF HOPE

Moral Re-Armament is a hurricane of common sense sweeping irresistibly through the heart of nations. It is smashing down the barriers between nations and races, dispersing the fogs of hate that threaten humanity and bringing a mighty wind of hope to the millions of Hoffnung-Hope-is the name of the play God put in the mind of a miner from the Ruhr. He is a worker at the coalface. He had never thought of writing a play. He changed. He found an answer to division in his home, his nation and the world. Chancellor Adenauer heard of this play and sent for this Ruhr miner and his friends. He asked them to go to Britain and France to prepare the way for his own visits to those countries.

"Many of us Germans," he said, "do not realize how deep are the wounds in other countries which were caused by what we did through having the wrong ide-ology." In an exclusive article in the New York Journal-American headlined "Adenauer Calls MRA World's Hope", the Chancellor said, "A nation with an ideology is always on the offensive. A nation without an ideology is self-satisfied and dead."

In Britain, Hoffnung was like a hurricane. It shifted the prejudices of years. In the spirit of Moral Re-Armament men like James Coltart, executive of the British press and television, took inspired and fearless action to prepare for Chancellor Adenauer's visit. His time in Britain was hailed as a triumph. Back in Bonn, the Chancellor at a meeting of the Christian Democratic Party referred to the mistrust between Britain and Germany which had been swept aside, and said, "We have to thank Moral Re-Armament for that."

In Paris, French audiences stood and cheered. Some were in tears as the German miners sang the Marseillaise in French.

There is a shrine at Mont Valérien where during the their death. To Mont Valérien went those Ruhr miners. They were escorted by the wife of the General at the head of the French nation's defence, and the niece of Gaulle. They were the first Germans to go there in fifteen years. They gave news of an idea powerful enough to unite nations separated by generations of hate. They expressed their sorrow for the past and their resolve to lay down their lives to rebuild Europe and the world. The columns of Le Figuro gave the news of this event to the French nation.

Vaterland, leading Swiss Catholic newspaper, reported the response to the miners' play in the monastery schools of central Switzerland under the headline, "Catholic Colleges Hail MRA Play." Vaterland reported Rector Scherrer of Schwyz as saying, "We can all subscribe to the principles of MRA. To recognize absolutely the dominion of God, or to bow down under the domination of human tyrants, that is the alternative which should unite us all whether we are Catholics, Christians, or non-Christiags." Vaterland also reported how Father Rector Thommen of Kollegium Niklaus von der Flue in Sarnen declared. Because you live what you believe, we can whole-heartedly accept this ideology.

In Luxembourg where the German miners were Government guests, the Prime-Minister, Piefre Werner, said, The moral and spiritual values on which your actions are based are the ideology that can save the Christian-West from its enemy."

The hurricane blew into Kerala and its 16,000,000 · inhabitants, the first major state in the world to vote itself into the Communist camp. Night after night vast crowds flocked to hear the evidence of Moral Re-Armament. Mannath Padmanabhan, father of his State, leader of the Hindu majority in Kerala, has found at Caux the secret of uniting with Christians. The Governor of the State, the Cabinet Ministers, trade union leaders, industrial men and students in their hundreds and their thousands came to hear the news of an answer.

COMMUNISM OUSTED IN KERALA

Archbishop Gregorius of Trivandrum said, "History will record our permanent gratitude to Mannath Padmanabhan not only for having ousted the Communist regime in Kerala, but for creating the unity of all the communities following his return from Caux." The Governor of the State, Ramakrishna Rao, then said, 'All our problems, political, economic, individual, must be solved in the spirit of MRA. It has an essential

Men changed in Kerala. The leader of 38,000 students made the experiment of listening to the voice of God. He said, "I am going to end impurity in my own life and clean up the student body. It is through moral compromise among the students that Communism has ripped us. I see that the choice for India is Moral Re-Armament or Communism, and I choose Moral Re-Armament."

Rajmohan Gandhi, grandson of my old friend Mahatma Gandhi whom I met on the first of my nine visits to India in 1915, said, "Without Moral Re-Armament the new government in Kerala might already have fallen. Moral Re-Armament will save India and Asia and the world from Communist take-over." When Chou En-lai arrived in India for his conferences with Prime Minister Nehru, the Times of India and the Hindustan Times carried full pages with the double-banner headline, "Moral Re-Armament—the next step for Communists and non-Communists alike."

These pages challenged the two men who today lead 1,000,000,000 Asians to find a new way of doing things for the sake of all men everywhere. They said in part, "Communism has failed to produce the new type of man—the unselfish man who can develop and run the unselfish society. The ideology of MRA changes people. That is why thousands of former Communists

Chancellor Adenauer conferred on March 19 in Los Angeles with his long-time friend Dr. Frank Buchman. He said, "I mus tell you how much I value you and your work of Moral Re-Armament. It is absolutely essential for the peace of the world."

all over the world are fighting the battle of Moral Re-Armament to restore the world on the basis of absolute moral standards." It was a real hurricane, and it was

When Chancellor Adenauer arrived in Tokyo for his state visit, he was welcomed at the airport by his miners from the Ruhr. He spoke to a joint session of the Japanese Diet calling for a moral ideology that could unite East and West and answer Khrushchev's challenge to take over the world. Next day in the Japanese Diet a Cabinet Minister said, "Chancellor Adenauer proclaimed Moral Re-Armament to Japan.

The miners had come to Japan in response to an invitation from Japan's Prime Minister and other leaders of the country and they were the guests of the Japanese throughout their six weeks' visit. A special train was put at their disposal by Governor Sogo of the Japanese National Railways in gratitude for the sanity of the news they brought.

Prime Minister Kishi said, "You are giving a moral backbone to the whole world. I wish to express my gratitude for the massive impact MRA has made on this nation during the past six weeks. The reports which I have received from all over Japan have convinced me of the effectiveness of this mission in giving ideological clarity and a moral answer to our people.

A leader of the Japanese Socialist Party at a crisis point early this year, said that Moral Re-Armament has played a key part in healing a fresh split in their ranks and prevented Communism from taking over. A leader of the Seinendan, a political organization of 4,300,000 youth, cabled me at Easter saying that MRA had once again won every seat from the Communists at the annual election in spite of the Communists' outpouring of manpower and money in the last twelve months.

A trade union leader tells how through Moral Re-Armament the President of one of the great mines of Japan was changed and as a result of his change, 3,500 miners, who needed 3,000 armed police to keep them from attacking the President, went back to work satisfied that their just claims were being met.

At the Milke mine, where workers had fought workers at the pithead, one man had been killed and hundreds injured. The leader of the organized women of the mine 'You brought us the answer to hate. Without it more would have been killed and injured. MRA is the answer to every injustice and human hate.'

RESTORING JAPAN'S DESTINY

And one of the great men of Japan, primarily responsible today for the security of his country, said, "For the first time since the end of the war you have given me hope. Moral Re-Armament is restoring a sense of destiny to a hundred million Japanese people. You are talking straight to us and cleaning us up in homes and politics. You are saying to us what no one else has dared to say."

A movie is going out to the millions which says what needs to be said in a way that the modern man understands, accepts and follows. It is a full-length Techni-color musical called The Crowning Experience, which in the words of Arthur Baker, for 21 years Chief of the Parliamentary Staff of The Times of London, is of "indescribable beauty. Its message is so deep that it needs to be seen again and again and yet again. It answers all the hunger and hurts of nations

When Spyros Skouras, President of 20th Century Fox, saw this movie, he threw his arms in the air saying, "Fantastic! Fantastic! This must go to every movie theater throughout the world.

S. S. Vasan, President of the Indian Film Federation, said of it, "A thousand times wonderful. You have shown me not only how to make a film, but how to live a life."

And the leadership of the nations of Africa are clamoring for The Crowning Experience. They say it will blow like a hurricane through the hearts of the Africans and heal the hating of a continent. Dr. Azikiwe, the man to whom 35,000,000 Nigerians say they largely owe their freedom, says, "I spent many years in America where I was fed with the bread of bitterness. It took me fifteen years to find an answer to my spirit of revenge. I found that answer at Caux." He added that The Crowning Experience attacks with tact and subtlety the social inequalities that have created wrong ideologies between men and gives definite promise of a cure. And he says,
"Moral Re-Armament was the secret of independence for Nigeria.

Jasper Savanhu, first African to be a Member of the Federal Government of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, says The Crowning Experience must be seen by every African, black and white, this year. He says, "Winning political power will not by itself secure the future of the African. We can throw off the foreign yoke and then find African leaders who live only for personal advantage. Unless leadership is inspired by Moral Re-Armament, there is no future for the people. Moral Re-Armament is the solution to the greed, ambition, selfishness and competition in high places all over the world."

Leaders for the 40,000,000 French-speaking Africans eagerly demand The Crowning Experience for their people. They say its message could bring the bloodshed in Africa to an end. Gabriel Marcel, the world-famous French writer and philosopher, said after seeing it and talking with leaders from Africa, "I came to Caux in despair. Here I have found a transfusion of hope. A deep confidence flowed back into my being.

White and black leadership in South Africa want their Cabinet and the whole country to see this movie. They say it holds the secret that alone can cure the racial divisions that are tearing South Africa apart, dividing her from other countries, and undermining her

Mrs. Daisy Bates, Negro leader of Little Rock, Arkansas, known all over the world for the part she played in the battle with Governor Faubus over racial integration in the schools, saw. The Crowning Experience: She said, "Magnificent! It must go everywhere. It is essential in the South, but MRA is now needed throughout the world. It will soon catch the imagination of the whole world. Nothing else on the scene can do it.' Mrs, Bates, and her husband, as publisher of a newspaper, came to our training centre in Mackinac Island, Michigan. There Mr. Bates said, "For the first time in. my life I have lost my hatred of the white man." On her return to Little Rock, Mrs. Bates invited some of the leading citizens of her State, white people who had also been to Mackinac, to dinner in her home. They camethe first time in the history of Arkansas that such a dinner party had been possible. After dinner, Mrs. Bates suggested a time of quiet in which together they should seek God's way of ending the deadlock. The thought came that Mrs. Bates should visit Governor Faubus, the man who for years had been pictured to the world as her bitterest enemy. She trembled, but she went. She said later, "The Governor could not have received me more graciously if I had been the President." They shook hands, and the picture of that handshake went round the world. Governor Faubus had previously said, "Moral Re-Armament is sowing the seeds that will prove to be the salvation

Mrs. Bates told an audience in Washington, "Without Moral Re-Armament it would have been impossible for me to meet Governor Faubus without hate. But I have learned to fight for what is right without hatred. I want Moral Re-Armament for the children of the South and of America. We can see on the horizon a new day." A major American broadcasting system in its review of 1959 described this handshake as possibly the most significant news event of the year, which could mark the end of a hundred years of civil war in the United States of America.

MRA IN SOUTH AMERICA

In the Republics of South America the hurricane is blowing too. Millions read the news of an answer. Millions more hear it over the radio. In one week alone all the main newspapers of Montevideo carried reports of the world work of MRA, and eighteen leading papers of Argentina, Uruguay, and Peru carried 51 articles. A leading editorial in La Prensa, the largest newspaper of Peru, said, "Moral Re-Armament has a unique strength for the ideological battle in the world today. It is an insistent call to all who believe in a supreme Creator to confront those who preach atheism. It is a world effort to defeat materialism. The morally rearmed are not an easy prey to materialist indoctrination."

Eudocio Ravines, one of the great revolutionaries of our time who, trained by Mao Tse-tung, introduced Communism to Peru and Chile, met in Moral Re-Armament a superior ideology that changed him. He says, "The basic problems of Latin America are not under-development, but corruption and Communism. While our countries welcome economic aid, alone it cannot touch the root problem. Without a moral ideolthe United States of America or any nation can send to Latin America is Moral Re-Armament."

In a long lifetime of experience that has taken me to all parts of the world and brought me in touch with every sort of people, I have never seen a greater hunger and a greater hope than we find today. Man must choose the road of common sense or he will inevitably take the path of common suicide.

WORLD-WIDE TRANSFORMATION

Mr. P. J. Little, the well-known statesman and thinker of Ireland, put the challenge clearly in the Dublin Sunday Press. His article about Moral Re-Armament occupied two central pages. It was headed, "World War III—the war of ideas—the battle we cannot lose."

He said, "The Cold War has only to heat up to boiling point for ten seconds and civilization will be blasted into eternity. Ideas not bombs will determine who wins the battle of ideologies, and on this battle depends the length of time we have left to live and whether our children will ever grow up.

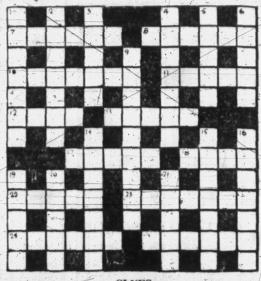

But the far-seers of this century recognize in Moral Re-Armament the certainty of cure. My friend Robert Schuman of France, who has twice written the foreword to the French edition of my published speeches, puts it this way, "Moral Re-Armament is a philosophy applied in action that I have seen reaching the millions. is a world-wide transformation of human society that has already begun.

It needs a hurricane of common sense to bring men to their senses, restoring the Communist and the non-Communist world to sanity and unity before it is too late. That hurricane is sweeping through every nation today, and in the midst of the hurricane the still small Voice of the living God, an unseen but ever-present Guide, willing and able to speak to the men of the Kremlin, the men of Washington, to the millions everywhere, leaders and led, who have lost their way and seek to find it.

It is so normal. It is so practical. It is a hurricane, And it is common sense.

WINDS KEEP SUNNY DAYS ON COOL SIDE

Fair weather will continue the next 24 hours, temperatures down slightly in the face of a brisk 25 mph wind from the west, the weatherman said today.

The mercury Sunday climbed to 72 degrees inland and winds around midnight gusted from an average 30 mph to to 44, dropped for a few hours and picked up again at 5 a.m.

There will be a few more clouds today and Tuesday than over the weekend, but the outlook is generally for sun with temperatures hitting a high of

Steve Allen Concludes His Season at 10 on Channel 5

HAIL AND FAREWELL Less than a month ago verbally stabbing TV's Ramar, 13. mighty Caesar of laughs in the forum of our dis.

Yet, lo and behold, distaining our barbs as the puny things they are, he surged back Thursday nights seemingly from the very valley of oblivion, to attack us with such an array of laughing gas that verily, long before the hour of his triumph was over we were completely and helpless in his hands, rendering hoarse de combat.

'Met in our defeat were we happy. It is not a pleasant sight to watch, the death agonies of a Caesar, even of the Sid variety.

What caused this transformation? ss 55 Following his last show we blamed his writers for 35 55 his discomfluer. Where, our pen wondered, were she 55 55 expected subtleties? Where were the clever skits fashioned for master pantomiming for which Caesar is renowned? Where was the sharpness? The crispness? The faultless timing that saw his thrusts into mirth prick the funnybones of his adversaries each time almost without fail? This time, in contrast, his writers armed and Skitch Henderson, the planist-conductor.

armored Caesar well. His silent movie take-off with Audrey Meadows and Chita Rivera, "The Banker's Kiss." was a masterpiece of miming. His skit with Gene Barry, "Bat Masterson Drops In," also was satisfactorily funny. Certainly Sid's closing beainly number deserves mention, nicely catching the under-lying sadness of the space age's "lost generation."

But then it was all sound—the package, I mean The Chita Rivera "Come, Running" number and the "Fiffy Years of Show Biz" roundup served nicely to change pace and balance the memorable hour.

When near clesar rise again. When next autumn's leaves commence to fall may CLOSE UP'S INTERVIEW with Toronto columnist and TV character Gordon Sinclair, Thursday night, was both invigorating and amusing. As he ran down God, the Royal Family and pussy-stingness with dispassionate and equal zeal one could almost hear the busy, irate scratching of pens as the vast, unseen audience began their white hot diatribe

Then one forgot Sinclair as Close Up chilled the blood and squeezed the breath with about as gruesome an array of newsreel coverage of war as one could envision. It was without commentator but not without commentary.

The sights of war-misery, fear, death, hunger, flight, desperation-spoke for themselves as no one could speak for them. When the next war erupts it may not matter very much if one has $300,000 in the bank or even $3 billion. Who will you spend it on and where? If you're there,

By JOHN MIKA and HUMPHREY DAVY About 300 soldiers, RCMP officers, B.C. Forestry Service employees and volunteer loggers fanned out through the Nitinat Valley today in a desperate search for missing Cecil Rawlings, 75 Cook.

OPPOSING VIEWS ON RAWLINGS' FATE

Has a Miracle Happened?

Can Cecil Rawlings possibly be alive?

This is the question everyone in Victoria is asking today while a small army of men comb the jungle-like territory near Nitinat Lake in search of him.

Added to this was the finding he would have scratched some of his ownera about a quarter marker of some sort. There was no evidence of the coroner is that the chance of his having lived is so renote as to be almost an impossibility.

Can Cecil Rawlings possibly Added to this was the finding he would have scratched some near Nitinat Lake in search of him.

Most of those connected with the search believe it would be a fantastic miracle if he lived, although his body was not found with wrecked plane.

But there are two completely opposing feelings about it.

Some of the loggers who did the main search are convinced they have found sufficient tracks to indicate someone walked away from the plane.

Most of those connected most as to be almost an impossibility.

There is always the possibility that the plane may have struck the tree tops, then dense undergrowth, or perhaps in the tops of the 200-foot trees.

Among Rawlings' friends in Victoria the belief is that if he survived and was in full possession of his faculties he would have been certain to leave some indication at the wreck scene.

Tough Talk

By VICTOR J. MACKIE Times

Ottawa Correspondent OTTAWA-Prime Minister Diefenbaker is beleived here to have suggested to President Eisenhower during his private conversa-tions in Washington that 'rough talk" by military leaders was only aggravat-ing the tension between the West and the East.

The prime minister went out of his way when speaking at commencement exercises at Depauw University in Green-castle, Ind., Sunday to rebuke a top-ranking military leader who had been doing some "tough talking" about American preparedness to take on the Russians.

He said he was "disturbed" when "those in positions of military responsibility" re-sorted to "vocal rocket rattling."

DANGEROUS COURSE

"This," the prime minister said, said, "was a dangerous course."

Mr. Diefenbaker did not mention the U.S. military head by name. But it was apparent his criticism at Depauw University was directed at Gen. Nathan S. Twining, chairman of the U.S. chiefs of staff committee. The remark by Gen. Twining that aroused the prime minister was:

"Are we ready?-boy."

"The general made the statement at a news conference after the summit meeting in Paris had been wrecked by the Russians. He had been asked about the state of U.S. military preparedness.

By JOHN MIKA and HUMPHRY DAVY

About 300 soldiers, RCMP officers, B.C. Forestry Service employees and volunteer loggers fanned out through the Nitinat Valley today in a desperate search for missing Cecil Rawlings, 75 Cook.

Rawlings' business partner, Cecil Rhodes, 2628 Eastdowne, was killed in the crash of a Seabee amphibian May 29 during a one-day fishing trip to Nitinat Lake, 70 miles northwest of Victoria, by the C & C Transportation Ltd. co-owners.

The plane was reached by a ground party Sat-

Rawlings' fate remained an agonizing mystery up to press time today. He was still missing.

Most of the evidence indicated that he died in the crash but there were some clues that made searchers sure he lived through the smash-up.

WATER tells the truth about whisky

Now a distinguished new decante for a distinguished Canadian Whichy

ATER (plain or sparkling) is your most reliable guide to the whole truth about any whisky. Water adds nothing, detracts nothing, but reveals a whisky's true natural flavour and houquet. Put Seagram's "83" to the water test and you'll agree - to be that good with water, it must be a superb whisky and a more satisfying drink with any man's favourite mixer.
